

I oppose a vote that leads to more media consolidation. I am a mother of three children in a location where diversity is not great and I feel it very important that they and I have access to the widest spectrum of media types. ClearChannel owns most of the radio stations in this town. We do not benefit from this either as individuals or as a community. During the war in Iraq, we had an ice storm that shut down the public radio station for a while and I felt I had less access to sound reporting about the war than most citizens of the middle east.
